Product Description

White gentle window trim one-piece customizable Roman shades for living room

Roman blinds are made from fabric that is designed to pleat when raised. The blinds are constructed by mounting slats, which are connected to cords, into the back of a fabric panel. When the blind is lifted, the cords pull the slats together and force the blind to fold into pleats. This type of blind can be fitted either outside or within the recess. We recommend opting for outside, as it allows for increased light and is very easy to fit.
